

Cambridge – Fairtrade City

The City of Cambridge supports Fairtrade within local shops and cafes, and by the activity of Cambridge City Council, and was declared a Fairtrade City in March 2004.

Fairtrade products can be recognised by the FAIRTRADE MARK. They offer producers in developing countries a better deal than the regular market system does.

Benefits of Fairtrade include:

- ◆ a fair and stable price for farmers' products
- ◆ extra income for farmers and plantation workers to improve their lives
- ◆ greater respect for the environment
- ◆ a stronger position for small farmers and producers in world markets
- ◆ a closer link between consumers and producers

You as a customer have the power to increase the Fairtrade market by buying products such as coffee, chocolate, bananas and crafts that are fairly traded. To make your shopping easy, you will find Cambridge shops, supermarkets and cafes that sell Fairtrade products pinpointed on this map. Overleaf are listed the addresses of these FT outlets and the products sold.

So, enjoy your shopping! Please tell us what you think about this guide and let us know about additions to Fairtrade outlets on www.justsolutions.eu. There you can search our regularly updated database of Fairtrade products in Cambridge.

World Development Movement

has been active in Cambridge for 27 years and campaigns for justice for the world's poor by demanding action to:

- ◆ Cancel the debts of the poorest countries
- ◆ Change unfair international trade rules
- ◆ End UK government's misuse of aid money
- ◆ Combat climate change and its harm to poor countries

For more information see our website www.cambridgewdm.org.uk where you will also find a link to the database of Cambridge's Fairtrade outlets.
